THESE UNSEASONABLE rains have forced those of us who attempt, in a somewhat disorganized manner throughout the year, to keep our yardwork under control, into an unfavorable position as far as keeping ahead of the weeds.

We belong to that school of thought which believes that only a minimum of effort should be expended in yardwork to reap the maximum of results.

By grudgingly devoting a little time on weekends to some of the more obvious tasks, we have managed to keep the place presentable.

Until this spring, that is.

In between showers, we have been able to do little else but mow the lawns, a project that seems to be a must, unless one wants a grass porch.

We have been able to push the lawn mower around from time to time while staying on solid ground. But that is not the story about the bumper crop of weeds we seem to be producing this year.

There just doesn't seem to be any solid ground around...just weeds.

When the rains do stop, we weekend gardeners are going to have our work cut out for us just to get even again.

-o-

AS A WEEKEND GARDENER (to use the term loosely), we were interested recently in the blurb that was sent to us from an advertising agency describing "DUREX ANTI-BIRD MESH".

Enclosed with the covering letter was a small swatch and instruction sheet explaining that the agency's client had developed a product that could be used to prevent the extensive damage birds have been doing fruit plants.

According to the instructions, the netting, constructed of nylon, is put on a frame over the plants and thus the birds are foiled from getting to the berries.

An added note stipulates that the netting will not harm either the birds or the plants.

As a party who has lost out on many occassions in the past to the birds of all kinds, we were quite interested in this new product.

If we can find time, after the weather clears between weed-chopping sessions, we just may spread a net or two of Durex and maybe fool a few of our feathered friends that have made our joint their happy hunting ground for so long.

Who knows but with this new product, our entire gardening philosophy will change especially as it pertains to our four-tree "orchard" and the berry vines.

It has been "for the birds" in the past.

After bank robbery

Police nab suspects in nine minutes

SPEEDY WORK--Nine minutes after the Campbell Ave. branch of the Bank of America was held-up on Monday afternoon, two suspects were apprehended by three Campbell police officers and the money recovered.

Within nine minutes of an armed robbery of the Campbell Ave. branch of Bank of America, two suspects were apprehended by Campbell police.

The fast work was accomplished with the help of an alert citizen, James Slaughterbeck, Jr. of Campbell, who hailed the officers, gave them a description of the get-away panel truck, and copied down the license number.

The robbery occurred at 2:30 p.m. The teller, Mrs. Mary Thatcher, was approached by a dark complexioned man, who laid a .32 caliber revolver on the counter. He demanded all the small bills in her cash box.

Campbell police officer John Bariteau Vernon Lunt and Larry Newland, traced the truck to the parking area of Reception Unlimited, 41 Camden Ave.

One of the men was immediately taken into custody. The other suspect was found in the bathroom of the

Communitywide project

Creek banks get trees Saturday

Assured that spring has finally arrived, Campbell's once-postponed second annual tree-planting, clean-up project of the Los Gatos Creek will take place this Saturday, May 6.

Residents are urged by the Citizens Committee for City Beautification, sponsors of the program, to assemble at Campbell Park at Gilman and Campbell Ave., at 8:30 a.m. for a four-hour work session. The committee asks the volunteer civic-minded residents to bring shovels.

At the close of the work-session, luncheon will be served to the workers by members of the Campbell Garden Club in the park. Merchants and suppliers have furnished the ingredients for the luncheon.

Carl Kuhn, administrative aide to the city manager, with assistance of the Campbell Jaycees, has organized the refreshment phase of the combination fun-work session.

Bill Wren and Ken Hickman, of the city staff, are co-chairmen of the tree-planting project.

It is expected that more than 200 trees will be planted on Saturday in locations that will be specified (and the holes dug) beforehand. The 200 trees will augment the 300 that were planted last year when the community staged its first tree-planting project.

So successful was last year's event that it was decided to make it an annual affair. It was first scheduled for April 22 but the unseasonable showers forced postponement.

The committee members point out that during the past year the trees that were planted last year, and the weeds that were not, have thrived, so in addition to the tree-planting, there is a need to clean-up the banks also.

On Saturday at Vasona

Firemen present display

JOINT EFFORT--Fire Chief George Maxwell (left) of Campbell and Fire Chief Richard Wall, Jr. of Los Gatos, join hands to emphasize the statewide Fire Service Day this Saturday, May 6.

The fire departments of the two neighboring cities join forces on Saturday to present a display of fire and rescue equipment on the "neutral" ground of Vasona Park. On display also will include exhibits of fire prevention and youngsters will be given favors and free fire truck rides.

The display will extend from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and citizens of each community are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to meet the firemen who serve them and view the displays.

Planners reject 'upgrading' now

Attempts to upgrade two areas labeled "substandard" in the community were thwarted Monday night by the Planning Commission.

The commission refused to approve any proposed development plans until the city's '701' master plan study for the particular areas was completed.

One of the proposals turned down was for property on Crockett Ave. in the San Tomas area presently in the county. The other involved six lots at Campbell Ave. at Dot.

By an unanimous vote, the commission rejected the prezoning of property owned by Arthur Roberts, at 966 Crockett Ave., which is under consideration to be annexed to the city.

Roberts explained that he had purchased the the substandard property with the intent of removing the present

SOMETHING'S MISSING--Bob James of Campbell Water Co., points to where the inner cash vault in the water company's safe used to be before burglars over the weekend broke into the office and removed it. The cash box was estimated to weigh about 280-pounds and contained approximately $100. The burglars apparently used bars to pry open the doors of the office and safe and then dragged the heavy cash box to their waiting vehicle.

Mrs. Shaffer's topic was "a tale of two cities". She was introduced by Campbell Councilman Bill Smeed.

City Council meets Monday

Campbell councilmen face a light agenda next Monday, May 8, with a proposed ordinance regulating billiard centers enlivening an otherwise rather drab agenda for the evening.

There actually will be considerable "action" but it will be more or less of a routine nature. Up for final approval will be five ordinances that were given their first reading at the last meeting.

A proposed ordinance, recommended by the Planning Commission, regulating towing and storage of vehicles will also be up for discussion and possible first reading.

Little Leagues begin play

PLAY BALL---It was a big weekend for the young fry of the area as the two Little Leagues that serve this community (Campbell and Moreland) began the 1967 season's play. Campbell opened on Saturday at the Rosemary School field and Moreland got underway Sunday at the Payne School field.

Scattered showers on Saturday did not halt the traditional opening ceremonies on Saturday when Police Chief John Morgan and Little League officials officially opened the season.

On Sunday, Hobie Landreth, former S. F. Giant catcher, was the star at Moreland's opening ceremony.

Above, the behind-the-plate umpire towers over the Little Leaguers just before the first ball of the new season is pitched.

Editorial

Judge is named

We had wistfully hoped, as we watched the approach of Gov. Ronald Reagan to the problems of this state during his first few months in office, that we were embarking on a new era in governmental administration.

It was refreshing to hear that merit was the keyword and not politics.

Although we have not agreed with a number of policies that have been expounded by the governor, we had become convinced that he was sincerely doing a job and we liked what we saw on the whole.

We are not naive enough to believe that politics would be shunted aside while the governor buckled down to business..But, on the other hand, there was a definite ring of sincerity to some of the statements on that subject by the governor.

But politics, we suppose, will always be politics, no matter how "refreshing" a new governor's approach may be to the problems on the surface.

A case in point was the appointment made last week by Gov. Reagan to the vacancy on the Santa Clara County superior court bench which has existed for two months.

Reagan's appointment illustrated once again that politics is the name of the game.

We are convinced that Attorney John E. Longinotti who was named to the Superior Court will be an excellent judge. He becomes the first Reagan-appointed member of the Santa Clara County judiciary and we are certain that he will serve with distinction.

The law firm to which he belongs is one of the oldest in San Jose and the new Superior Court judge is well qualified for a judicial position.

The new judge also has been long active in Republican affairs and is a past chairman of the GOP County Central Committee. He was also the county leader for various campaigns of Richard Nixon in the past years.

There is absolutely nothing wrong for a judge to be politically active, although many of us sort of forlornly hope that the judiciary might some day be removed from the realm of politics.

We hold, however, that whenever possible judicial appointments to a higher court should be on a "promotion" or "elevation" basis from those who have served on the lower courts.

We are disappointed that Gov. Reagan, in making his first judiciary appointment in this county, did not "elevate" Municipal Judge Richard W. Rhodes, of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga court, to the superior court.

Community leaders throughout the county urged the appointment of Judge Rhodes, who has served on the municipal bench since 1958 and has demonstrated that he is qualified for the superior court office by his record of service.

Judge Rhodes, although a registered Republican, has not been active in partisan circles.

On the other hand, the enviable record he has made as a municipal judge qualified him for the promotion on merit alone, in our opinion.

We are well aware that before the appointment was made that there must have been a great deal of pushing and pulling, for, despite the fact that the court calendars are crowded and a need for two more judges has been established, two months went by before the appointment was made.

We are sorely disappointed that the governor's first judicial appointment in this county had to be tinged to a degree with partisan feelings.

We still maintain that Gov. Reagan's "fresh approach" to this state's problems has been has been commendable on the whole.

We also recognize that partisan politics are here to stay, no matter who is wearing the hat in Sacramento.

And you can't tell the players without a program.

and the communitywide event had to be postponed.

The creek banks were so soggy from their over-dose of dampness that it was almost impossible to get to them.

Although there have been a number of showers since the postponement, there also has been enough dry spell to dry things enough for Saturday.

So the community-wide tree-planting project is set for this Saturday, May 6. After the four-hour work session, a luncheon will be served at Campbell Park.

So come out Saturday, meet your neighbors; plant a tree....have fun...and..of course, BRING A SHOVEL.

AN ITEM in Grace Hebard's column, "our town", last week pertaining to the first reunion of the Campbell High class of 1934 was a trifle misleading...to put it nicely.

The column reported that it was the class of "1943" that was getting together instead of "1934".

Fortunately Grace also mentioned that it was the first reunion in 33 years for the class..So either by old or new math the answer would have to be 1934.

Now, ordinarily, when anytime one knocks off nine years in age, you make points with the party concerned.

But not when the class year is specified. There are too many year books around.

Ed. Stojanovich, who was MC of the affair, was somewhat concerned that members of the class of 1943 would show up, claiming that they had seen it in The Campbell Press.

In a way that was really a back-hand compliment from Ed. It showed that people DO read this paper, even when unfortunately, the dates are wrong.

But we hope that the item did not confuse matters at the class reunion and the "34'ers" did not have any trouble with the "43'ers" who might have crashed the party because of an item in The Press.

But the Press has to be blamed and we are still looking for the paper that has no errors.....

It could have been worse. The gremlin at the keyboard could have added 10 years just as easily.

Anyway, we humbly apologize for the typographical error of transition that cut off nine years just like that for members of the Campbell High class of 1934.

Unfortunately time marches on....with or without typographical errors.

Planning Commission rejects proposed 'upgrading' plans buildings. He planned to construct a 10-uni apartment on the site. He explained that it was felt that the area would eventually become part of Campbell and that was the reason he was seeking the prezoning from the Planning Commission.

He admitted that the adjacent parcels were also substandard, but maintained that his attempt to upgrade was a start.

The commissioners, however, indicated that they were not sure if the property was the proper location for such a plan and wanted to see what the '701' study would present first.

They also indicated they were unsure whether there would actually be any 'upgrading', if just one apartment house was built and the adjacent properties remain in their present state.

Lowell Grattan, a local developer, took the floor to urge the commission to approve the prezoning, claiming it was a definite "upgrading" move now and that the '701' program could extend almost indefinitely. He also cautioned the commission to not be concerned with anything but zoning.

But the commissioners felt that no action should be taken until the study of the area was completed and denied the request unanimously.

DOT AVE.

The same reason was used on Dot and Campbell Ave. who had joined together in a unique loosely-formed "cooperative" to ask for a P-D(planned development) zone on parcels they now own.

The commissioners also expressed concern over the proposed plan which calls for a service station on two of the lots on Campbell Ave. and for town-house complexes on the other four parcels. They felt that the service station would be built soon but there was no time table for the other structures.

They also indicated that they were not sure whether commercial zoning was proper for the Campbell Ave. frontage (directly across the street from the Campbell Water Co., plant and office).

Jack Dawson, local attorney, represented the property owners.

He pointed out that the area now was rated substandard and the proposed plan would definitely upgrade it. He also explained that the properties were not suitable for single-family use and that by joining together the property owners felt they could get a better overall development.

In the vote, Commissioner Kel Young cast the lone vote in favor of the proposal, claiming that it was a good location for such a development.

OTHER ACTIONS

In other actions, the commission approved building plans for a service station for Golden Eagle Refining Co., at Rosemary and Winchester; a building for RCA Service Co., at 240 Harrison; a shop building for Campbell Water Co., at 555 W. Campbell; an office for B & M Roofing Co., at 524 Forman Drive and an addition for La Fonda Restaurant at Bascom and Campbell.

Approved also were two requests for Pyramid Homes, one for a lot split between Hamilton and Latimer, west of Darryl Drive and the other for 12-lot subdivision between Gale and Latimer. In approving the tract, the commission recommended that the underground utility requirement be waived.

By a 4-3 vote, the commission also approved the application for Leep Development Co. for a sideyard variance in a tract near Saratoga city limits. The developers desire to build two-story homes on the property and needed the variance to do so. The approval actually granted the variance for eight lots but denied it on two.

The matter had been continued from a previous meeting when the commission, one member short, had deadlocked 3-3. In the vote Monday, Thayer Lyons, Kel Young, Ed Pack and Dean Chamberlin favored the variance with Jack Healey, Frank Klein and Merrill Grim opposed.

County drive against rubbish starts on May 7

All County fire chiefs, The National Safety Council, and The County Board of Supervisors have joined forces to declare war on rubbish throughout Santa Clara County.

The second annual county clean-up week, proclaimed by the Supervisors and sponsored by Santa Clara County Chapter, National Safety Council, and the Fire Chiefs' Association, will kick-off in a cloud of dust May 7 and continue through May 13. Purpose of the drive is to reduce inflammable waste, preserve property, and beautify the County.

Citizens are being asked to help on their own in cleaning up all dangerous rubbish, junk, newspapers and the like. This will reduce the possibility of spontaneous ignition as we head into the warm season, according to the Fire Chiefs. The scavenger companies also have linked up with the Fire Departments to inform the public of the need for clean-up work to make homes and places of business safe from fire.

UN-SAFE NOW---Bob James, of Campbell Water Co., points to the damaged doors of the office safe of the Campbell Water Co. Burglars over the weekend, apparently using crow-bars first broke into the water company's gate to the parking lot and then gained entry to the office by prying open the doors.

Apparently the same procedure was used in tearing off the doors of the office safe and then removing the 280-pound inner cash box containing approximately $100

In a special assembly last week, Campbell students heard two of their three foreign exchange students compare America, American teenagers, and Campbell High to their native land and its people. Both Kyu Ok Lee, of South Korea, and Rainer Sommer, of Germany, seemed greatly impressed by our country and its people. Perla Perez, from Chile, was also expected to speak, but unfortunately she was absent on this day.

Student Council and Student Body President candidates were also introduced at this assembly. Primary elections were held on Friday, April 28. In the race for Student Body President, Mason Sacks was unopposed on the primary ballot, but Rocky Fagundes, by virtue of his write-in strength, will oppose Mason in the finals.

Competing for four seats on the Student Council will be Tim Baker, John Brydon, Don Carr, Don Fox, Dennis Marshall, Tim Sapp, W. Gregory Stewart, and Eric Washington. The final elections will be held within the next few weeks.

The varsity baseball team is setting the pace for its league as it won three games last week to bring its record to 6 wins, no losses. The team amassed 37 hits in 3 games, beating Del Mar 11 to 3, Leigh 5 to 1, and Westmont 17 to 5 Results of Tuesday's all-important game with Camden were unavailable at presstime.

In other action, the tennis team beat Del Mar and lost to Leigh, and the Soph-Frosh track team was the only victor in the meet against Westmont.

A victory over Westmont, gave the varsity swimmers a second place league finish. The Cee mermen also finished near the top, but the Bees were left in the second division. Coach Bill Augenstein was pleased by the results of the swimming finals held at Saratoga last weekend, as several Buc swimmers qualified for sectional meets coming up in the near future.

Thursday, May 4, finds varsity baseball and tennis at Los Gatos, and the Soph-Frosh nine hosting the Wildcats. The Blackford oval will be the site of this weeks track meet, which will be the last dual meet of the year, as the finals begin next Tuesday.

Also next Tuesday, May 9, varsity baseball and tennis action will be featured in home contests against the Saratoga Falcons.

Burglary at Tool rentals

Tool Shed Rentals, 2420 S. Winchester Blvd., was broken into over the week-end and $773 in currency was taken from the cash register. The burglary occurred during the night when the business was closed.

Entry was apparently made with a screwdriver, forcing the wooden panel door. $27 was also taken from the coke machine which was broken into in the same manner.

Restaurant class at WV gets chance to operate resort

West Valley College's Food Restaurant Management Program, only one year old, has been given unique recognition, according to Thomas Devins, program coordinator.

The class has been given the opportunity of taking over and running a resort-hotel in the Adirondack Mountians in upstate New York for the summer--getting an unusual opportunity to put classroom theories to practical test.

At the same time, Devins pointed out, the members of the class chosen for the trip will be having a paid vacation, and will also get a chance to take in Expo 67 at Montreal, Canada, just three hours away from the Wawbeek Hotel and Cottages, Tupper Lake, N.Y.

Those students participating in the programare Lloyd Clark, Donnell Cole, John Ramonda, James Pursel, Fred Stephens.

Clark will become a cook and salad maker, Cole will be the chef (he has already distinguished himself in a number of special events put on for the college), Ramonda will be head waiter, Pursel will be dishwasher and

This basic team will be supplemented by some employees hired in New York, and the entire resort will be under the management of Devins.

He said that the students "will put to use the knowledge they have accumulated in the past year in classwork, and will gain experience while being paid.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN--Both Campbell and Moreland Little Leagues opened the 1967 season last weekend. Campbell tossed the first ball at the Rosemary field on Saturday amidst scattered showers while Moreland opened on Sunday at the Payne School field.

Sunny skies for Moreland opener

Sunny skies marked the opening day ceremonies of Moreland Little League at Payne School last Sunday at 12 noon. A large crowd of parents and friends watched as the 39 major, minor, "C" league and "T" league teams were introduced in their colorful baseball uniforms.

Hobie Landrith former member of the San Francisco Giants gave the introductory speech. A number of sports and civic leaders were also introduced including Bob Miailovich, Moreland Little League World Series 1962 Champion's manager. Bud Christensen, president of Moreland Little League led the ceremonies.

Games for the first day included the Chiefs vs. White Sox; Athletics vs. Royals and Orioles vs. Cards in the Minor League and Colts vs. Cubs; Giants vs. Angels; Reds vs. Dodgers in the Majors.

West Valley College trustees name two new athletic coaches

Two new coaches have been named by the Board of Trustees for West Valley College for the 1967-68 school year.

They are basketball coach Larry Jennings, 30, who has been coaching at San Juan High School for the past three years, and swimming coach Eugene H Nyquist, who has been head varsity swimming and water polo coach at James Lick High School in the East Side Union High School District, San Jose.

Jennings attended San Juan High School himself in 1954 and played center on two varsity championship teams that won 26-straight league games. He was selected to the All-Conference and All-Northern California basketball teams.

He then went on to Michigan State University where he played three years of varsity basketball, being a member of the team that won the big ten championships in 1957 and 1959 and finishing second in 1958.

He received his Master's degree from Sacramento State College in 1966.

His coaching experience includes three years at Folsom High School one year at Cordova High School and the last three years at San Juan High School.

His teams have an overall record of 90 won and 61 lost. He is married and the father of three.

Nyquist, who is well-known in this area, has a B.A. from the University of Pacific, and an M.A. from San Jose State, both in physical education, plus additional graduate study at both Sacramento and San Francisco State colleges.

He coached two years at Grant High School, North Sacramento, before coming to James Lick in 1958, where his teams and individual performers have piled up enviable records.

His swimming teams have won 109 and lost 20 matches during his tenure, and his water polo teams have won 83 and lost 35, including eight straight league titles for the swimmers and three championships for the water polo squads.

Since 1959, the swimming team has won 68 and lost only one in league competition. It has had two national champions and two Olympic Gold Medal winners, Paul Hait and Gary Ilman, and 19 high school All-Americans.

The water polo teams chalked up a 14-0 league record in both 1965 and 1966 and had four members of the team listed as All-Americans.

Nyquist is married, has one child, and lives at 14770 East Hills Drive, San Jose.

High water hits trout planting

Stocking in trout in three county parks has been postponed until Saturday, May 13 due to high water from the recent heavy rains, B. V. Amyx, County Parks Director, has announced.

Originally scheduled for Saturday, April 29 the trout stocking will take place at Stevens Creek Park, Santa Teresa Park near Coyote, and Mount Madonna Park near Gilroy

Fishing is in lake and stream at Stevens Creek, in the reservoir pond at Santa Teresa, and in Sprig Lake at Mount Madonna.

All three areas received such high water that parks personnel could not prepare the areas for stocking, Amyx said. In addition, bridge damage has impeded operations at Sprig Lake.

DIAMONDS

The art of cutting diamonds into regular facets to increase the play of light was discovered by De Berghem, a Belgian, in 1456.

Police Department seeks Reserve force recruits

Men interested in getting started in a career of law enforcement and others interested in joining a volunteer group helping to enforce the laws of their city, are gaining satisfaction in working with the Campbell Reserve Police Force.

Men from many trades make up the Reserve force. The Campbell Police Department is accepting applications now for this volunteer group. Applications are available at the Campbell Police Department, 75 N. Central Ave.

Requirements are citizenship, residence in the county, a high moral standing and background, height, 5 ft. 9 inches, weight proportionate to height, and an interest in law enforcement.

A Reserve Policeman, when on duty, has all the powers and responsibilities of the regular officer in beat car patrol. Reserve officers also work special details, such as Halloween night, Thanksgiving Day football games, college dances, and other special events. The Reserve Department also conducts a safety inspection during the holiday season.

Although most of the duty is volunteer, many area merchants offer pay jobs to Reserves concerning special events at their establishments.

Each Reserve Officer is trained for the job. A new reserve officer must attend a special college course. In addition, he must attend monthly training at the police department. These sessions cover topics such as first aid, crime investigation, riot control and other related topics. Actual field experience completes the well rounded program.

Any male resident with a few evenings to spare a month, is invited to assist in enforcing the laws.

1 YEAR AGO

Members of the family of the late Judge John D. Blaine, who died last October at the age of 91, gathered with city officials Monday morning at Campbell Park to honor his memory. A 20-foot high Douglas Fir was dedicated as a living memorial to the judge, justice of peace for 24 years and long active in civic affairs.

An ambitious five-year capital outlay program for the City of Campbell totaling $4 1/2 million, of which $3 million would be financed by a bond issue, was unveiled at the Planning Commission meeting Monday night.

More than 150 dedicated "crusading" volunteers last Saturday morning staged the most successful community cooperative projest in this city's history. They attacked with vigor and enthusiasm Campbell's notorious "eye-sore", the Los Gatos Creek, and scored a resounding victory over this unkempt enemy to Campbell's image.

5 YEARS AGO

Following a 3-1 vote City Manager Milton S. Hetzel was asked Monday night to resign his position by the council.

"I shall be a candidate for re-election this year to the United States Senate," Thomas H. Kuchel stated this week.

"For 10 years, I have served my fellow Californians in the Senate. It is to the people of my state and nation that I owe my allegiance.

The result of widening Winchester Rd. through the heart of Campbell has been the cutting down of many old trees which have lined Winchester for years. The evergreen trees under which many a Campbell grammar school child has sat and rested on a hot, sunny day fell to the wheels of progress this week.

10 YEARS AGO

In their spare time Campbell firemen have been recreating a Model T Ford into a fire engine similar to the 1912 job that rolled the streets of Campbell for many years. They claim their finished produce will practically duplicate the town's first fire engine.

Although construction in the nine-county San Francisco Bay Area in March this year was down a whopping 45 per cent from March of 1956, Campbell was one of the few bright spots in the entire area and showed an increase, according to figures released by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in San Francisco.

Trustees of the Campbell Union High School District on Tuesday night accepted the low bid of $163.427 by the Alekns Construction Co., for the 14 classrooms at the Camden High School plant.

15 YEARS AGO

Campbell Union School District trustees have called a special election June 10 for a school bond issue of $600,000. Bond money would be used to enlarge the new schools now in various stages of planning and construction to build another school on the Hazelwood site. The additions are needed to take care of increased enrollment that will overcrowd school buildings by 1953.

Key matters discussed by City Council Monday night concerned future San Jose annexation moves threatening Campbell city limits, adoption of an interim zoning ordinance, question of a business license tax, a garbage disposal contract and a subdivision map ordinance.

Officials from Campbell Union High School District, Union School District and Cambrian District held up San Jose plans to annex South Willow Glen No. 10 until a public hearing May 12. School authorities argued proposed annexation would work a hardship on administration of their districts.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - I have private health insurance to supplement Medicare and I recently filed a claim with my private health insurance company. The company wrote back asking if I had Parts A and B under Medicare. Just what is Part A and Part B of Medicare?

A. - Part A of Medicare is the hospital insurance, which includes inpatient hospital benefits, extended care benefits after hospitalization, home health benefits after hospitalization, and outpatient hospital diagnostic benefits. Part B is the medical insurance, frequently called "doctor bill insurance", which helps pay for doctors' services, other medical services and supplies, and home health services.

Q. - My mother is entering the hospital and the doctor has told us that she will have to have a private room because of the seriousness of her condition. My understanding is that Medicare will only pay for a semi-private room. Is this correct?

A. - If it is medically necessary for your mother to have a private room, Medicare will pay for it. If the private room is furnished at your request and is not medically necessary, you would pay the difference between the private and the semi-private rates.

Q. - How do I file a claim for hospital insurance benefits under Medicare?

A. - You, the patient, do not file a claim for hospital insurance benefits. The hospital files the claim with the Medicare insurance carrier and bills you for the $40 deductible and any other services not covered by Medicare.

Q. - My sister was 65 in 1966 and she signed up for hospital insurance under Medicare and has received her Medicare card. She never worked under social security, and was never married. My situation is the same as hers. Will I be eligible for hospital insurance benefits when I reach 65 in 1968?

A. - Starting in 1968, persons will need some coverage under social security to be eligible for hospital insurance benefits. Since you will be 65 in 1968, you will need 1-1/2 years of work under social security to be eligible for insurance benefits.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Time is running out for the United States postal system. As Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has warned, "It is in a race with catastrophe".

The present postal system isn't equipped to handle the great volume of mail which has now reached eighty billion pieces per year as compared to a mere five billion for the entire Soviet Union. And the volume is increasing at the rate of three billion pieces annually!

Among the reasons for deterioration of postal service are outmoded facilities, a hodgepodge system of political management, and low postal pay scales.

Nearly 90% of Post Office buildings were constructed before 1940. The Department sets aside only 2.4 to 4.1% of its budget for new buildings while American Telephone and Telegraph plows roughly 30% every year into capital investment. To completely modernize Postal buildings would cost $5 billion spread over the next five years.

Americans want and expect twentieth century service but it isn't possible as long as the inefficient notion continues that the Post Office is properly a political power base for dispensing local Postmasterships.

After being plagued with aspiring Postmasters following my first election to Congress, I introduced legislation which would have taken their appointment completely out of politics. It did not see the legislative light of day due to the desire of powerful Members of Congress to preserve their political patronage bases.

Inadequate postal pay is probably more responsible for poor service than any other one factor. A beginning mail carrier receives only $5,331 per year--not enough to support his family in this high-priced age. As a result 41% of San Jose letter carriers must "moonlight" and hold second jobs. Thirty-eight percent of their wives must work to keep the family budget in balance. The San Jose Post Office alone has a turnover of more than thirty persons each month because employment outside the postal service attracts the qualified. They are replaced with less qualified people and service suffers.

A bill pending before Congress, which would elevate clerks and carriers from the present level 4 pay scale to level 5, could go a long way toward solving this problem.

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, a shrewd politician, has suggested getting the Department out of politics and setting it up as a non-profit, government, corporation operated by a Board of Directors and a professional executive. Similar proposals are under study in Britain and Canada and TVA is already organized along such lines.

United Parcel Service has grown from nothing in 1951 to a firm which handled 300 million parcels in 1965. Since 1960, REA has raised its annual tonnage of shipments from 1.4 million tons to 1.8 million, a 23% gain. It has added 126 terminals and 18,436 vehicles.

So, the mail can be carried through modern private enterprise techniques. Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien's solution seems like the best suggestion to date. It deserves serious study.

Rep Gubser introduces bill to abolish electoral college

Congressman Charles S. Gubser (R.-Calif.). This week introduced legislation to abolish the Electoral College and provide for the direct popular election of the President and Vice President of the United States.

Gubser's bill closely follows the recommendations recently adopted by the American Bar Association.

The 10th District Congressman's proposal would amend the Constitution to provide for direct election of a President and Vice President, running as a team, with a requirement of 45% of the vote for election. If no pair of candidates received 45%, a national runoff election would be held.

"Keeping the Electoral College is like keeping a horse and buggy in the space age," Gubser said. "As originally intended by the framers of the Constitution, the Electoral College was to place the choice of the President in the hands of persons who presumably were personally acquainted with the various candidates. Modern communications have changed all that. Every citizen can, with a little effort, cast a well-informed vote. What remains of the electoral system today is undemocratic, archaic and ambiguous."

"Direct election would eliminate the ever-present possibility of a candidate being elected with fewer popular votes than his major opponent. By doing away with the 'winner take all' system, direct election would give weight to the minority votes within a state, which under the pre-system do not count at all. Instead of concentrating campaign activity in pivotal states where a few popular votes can swing the election, eliminating the Electoral College would increase and redistribute political activity, and give each voter a legal, equal voice in the choice of our President and Vice President."

"WICS" seek new members

Women in Construction of Santa Clara County (WICS), an organization comprised of women employed in the construction industry, is holding a membership drive. Any woman employed in this field or who owns a business in any of the following fields, architecture, engineering, contracting, material supplying, construction news services, etc., is eligible to join.

Various chapters have different goals. Chapter 99 of Santa Clara County has chosen scholarship funds as their project. They will award a scholarship to a worthy girl to De Anza College. This year's winner is Miss Judy Wright. The chapter meets monthly for dinner on the third Wednesday of each month. Any girl interested in the "WICS" may contact the membership chairman, Mrs. Fran Bailey, 378-9503.

Campbell hospital seeks funds for new coronary care unit

A donation of $1,000 from its own medical staff and another $1,000 anonymous donation is leading the way toward a $7,000 fund being sought by non-profit Campbell Community Hospital 1650 Winchester Boulevard, Campbell, for purchase of a new, highly-specialized coronary care unit.

The unit, already in operation at the hospital pending purchase, has been used by several heart patients, according to E. E. Admire, hospital administrator.

It monitors the heart of the patient with a serious heart condition, on a 24-hour basis, enabling nurses to observe the heart action constantly. If the patient's heart should begin to falter, the monitoring system immediately alerts the hospital staff.

Admire explained that "continuous observation of heart activity in coronary patients is a recent concept in the new field of medical electronics, and the Campbell Community Hospital is one of the first in this area to install this kind of system.

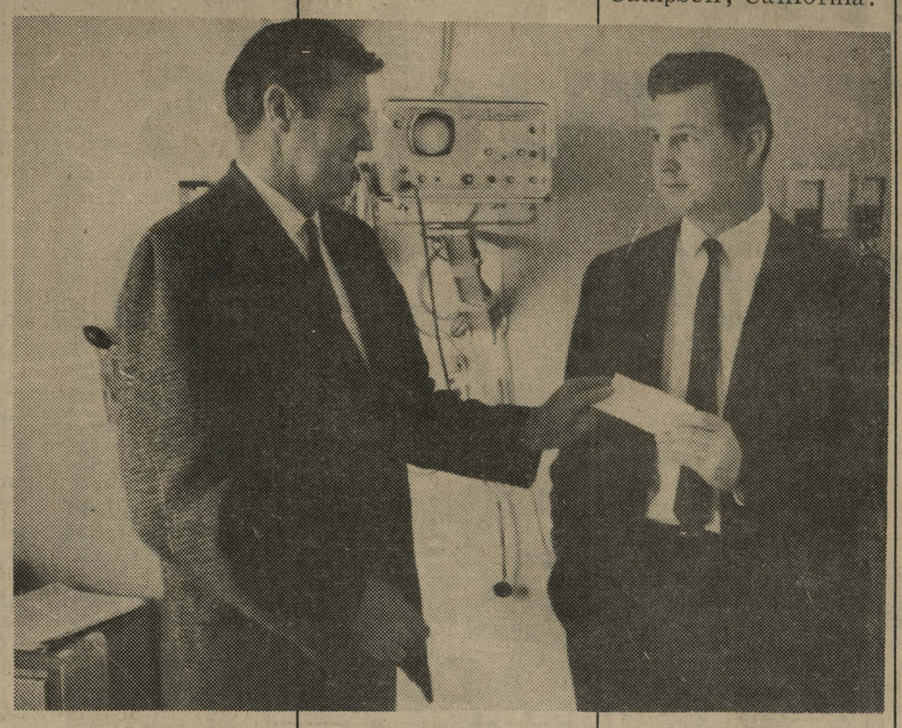
"Before we had this equipment it was not possible to monitor patients' hearts continuously," he said.

Mounted beside the patient's bed is an electronic Lifeguard Patient Monitor, containing a cardioscope and heart rate meter. The cardioscope, which looks like a television screen, displays an electronic picture of the wave form produced by the electrical activity of the patient's heart. Electrodes attached to the patient and connected to the cardioscope produce the wave form picture.

The patient's bedside monitor is linked to a Central Station Monitor at the nurses' station. This enables the nurses to observe both the electrocardiogram and the heart rate of the cardiac patient continuously and simultaneously. Also at the nurses' station is an electrocardiograph to provide a written record of the patient's heart activity.

A danger situation is signaled by a red light on the bedside monitor. Automatically, a red light also goes on and a buzzer sounds at the nurses' central station.

Funds are being sought to purchase the equipment, which Admire believes can save many lives throughout the Campbell area. Donations from service clubs, civic groups and individuals can be sent to Campbell Community Hospital, 1650 Winchester Boulevard, Campbell, California.



DOCTORS DONATION---Dr. Wayne O. Buck (right), chief of the medical staff of Campbell Community Hospital, presents a check for $1,000 to Robert W. Brydon, chairman, Board of Trustees of the hospital. The money is a donation from the medical staff as part of a community-wide fund-raising campaign for $7,000 to pay for the coronary care unit to be purchased for the hospital-- to care for heart patients needing special 24-hour attention.

Saia, was making an inspection tour after being named to the Board of Trustees of the non-profit hospital.

RAIN DROPS

Recorded rainfall in Campbell hit the 25 inch mark this last week with .11 of an inch being recorded in what everyone hopes will be the last rain for the season.

Only three times before in the 93-year rain history kept by the Campbell Water Company, has the total precipitation reached or passed the 25 inch mark, which makes the 1966-67 "WET" year a very wet one indeed. In 1941 a total of 28.17 inches fell in Campbell exceeded only by the 1889-90 season at which time 30.30 inches were recorded, followed by the 1891-1892 year with 25.17 inches.

Normal for this time of year is 14.65 inches, with only 12.01 inches having fallen all of last year.

For the faint-of-heart and weary-of-rain Cambellites the record offers hope of a continued dry spell, with the Campbell Water Company records showing that the total rain received during the month of May has very rarely exceeded the one inch mark, with only 1.24 inches having been recorded in May 1957.

Campbell Community Hospital adds two members to board

Two new members have been named to the Board of Trustees of the non-profit Campbell Community Hospital, Board Chairman Robert W. Brydon has announced.

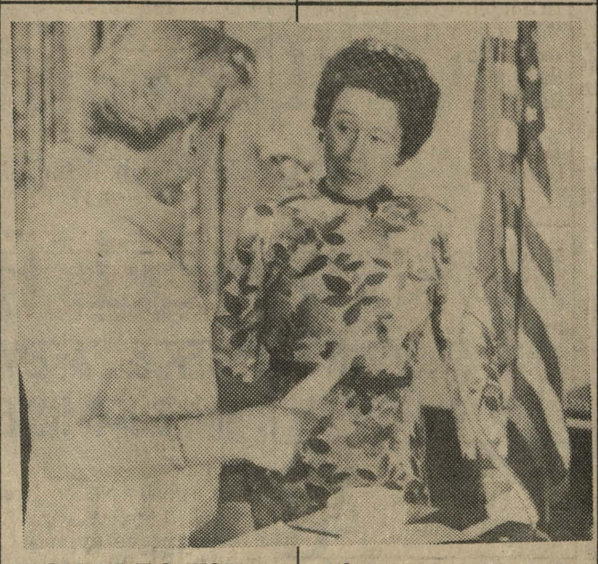
Those named are Dale H. Scott, executive director, Santa Clara County Taxpayers Association, and Mario Saia, retired food marketing man, and Campbell resident.

They will serve without pay in guiding the newly-created hospital foundation in its role as a public service organization, Brydon said.

Scott is a graduate of San Jose State College with a degree in Political Science/Public Administration and has been with the Taxpayers Association since 1960.

He is also a member of the Management Study Advisory Committee to the County Board of Supervisors; a past member of the Santa Clara County Committee on School District Organization, past member of the Economic Opportunity Commission: Chairman, Advisory Committee to the Assembly Committee on School Efficiency and Economy and School District Budgeting and Accounting; Chairman, Finance Committee, Campbell Capital Improvement Committee. He is a member and past director of the San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a director also of the World Affairs Council of San Jose and the Youth Science Institute of San Jose.

Saia came to the Campbell area from Hanover, New Hampshire in 1949, and has been active in community affairs since. He served as president of the Campbell Rotary Club in 1959-60, and is on the Board of Directors of the La Rinconada Country Club. He has been active in the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and, while in New England, served on the board of directors of the Elks Lodge in his community.



FROM US TO YOU---Mrs. W. E. Cave, vice president of the Country Woman's Club of Campbell, presents fellow member Mrs. W. R. Morgan with a certificate of appreciation at Monday's club meeting for her work with young people in the community, most especially the Campbell Youth Guidance Committee and Juvenile Hall. Mrs. Morgan shared honors with Campbell Chief of Police John Morgan in the surprise presentation.

Campbell Elementary Schools host successful art fair

Over 500 persons viewed the art work of students in the Campbell Elementary School District during Public School Week. The occasion was the District's sixth annual Art Festival. This year's Festival was hosted by Monroe School with John Haynes as chairman. Haynes is the art instructor at Monroe School. Members of the Art Club and Girls' Service Club provided student assistance in hanging the show and serving coffee to guests

The show included all media and combinations of materials in the more than 400 pieces.

Each year the children in each class in the District's schools select one picture that has been painted during a regular art class to represent them in the Art Festival.

The creativity of the children amply illustrated the district's philosophy that educators face the task of assisting in the development of human beings for a future that is relatively unknown.

This rapidly changing culture requires that individuals face the work with courage, competence and curiosity. With proper guidance in art, each child can become more independent and resourceful in his thinking, and more discriminating in his judgment.

Teachers from several of the schools served as hosts for the show. They included Mrs. Helen Stewart from Dover School, Miss Marsha Knapp from Quito, Mr. Ron McKenzie from Quito School, Mrs. Jean Molnar from Campbell School, Mitsu Kumagai from Sherman Oaks School, Mrs. Betty Goss from Rosemary School, Mrs. Dorothy Faul from Marshall Lane School, Mrs. Cathleen Whitney from San Tomas School, Mrs. Arlene Hughes from Capri, Mr. Philip Ziep from Blackford, John Haynes from Monroe and Mrs. Thelma Wathen, District Art Consultant.

Foreign postal rates take hike

An increase in international surface and airmail rates went into effect Monday, May 1, according to Postmaster James M. Hurley.

The new international rates, he said, will not apply to mailings for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Domestic postage rates are applicable to mail addressed through APO's and FPO's.

The rate increase for both surface and airmail--averaging 13%--were first proposed on January 14 and publicly confirmed on March 1. The Department explained at that time that they were needed to help offset a deficit.

Girl Scouts

Happiness is -doing something to make others happy! What better way could there be than for Girl Scouts to work together on a service project for others.

Four Junior Scouts, Troop 953 of Forest Hills School, have been doing just that. Yolanda Figueroa, Raylene Cupps, Donna Bush and Karen Akers have been working towards their "toy badge" since February under the direction of Mrs. Vernon Waltz. Mrs. Waltz has had the girls in her home several times to instruct them in making felt hand puppets, felt boards for story telling and large picture books of animals, flowers, etc. All these things were presented to the Kindergarten teacher yesterday for use in her room.

Troop 953 is under the capable direction of Mrs. William VanWyngaarden, Mrs. Saul Stein and Mrs. Wendell Thomas.

The Bucknall Juniors, Troop 704, have collected Betty Crocker coupons and with this and part of their troop funds purchased stainless steel ware, a tea kettle, and six ash trays for the teachers room at their school.

On April 27, the Bucknall PTA Executive Board treated the entire teaching staff to a luncheon at the Sveden House. Troop leaders Mrs. Raymond Webster and Mrs. Barry Hollenbeck took their scouts to the restaurant where they presented each teacher with one of the items the troop had purchased. It was great fun and definitely a surprise to all of the teachers.

During the time of the luncheon, 12 to 1:30 p.m. the executive board substituted for the teachers in caring for the children, tending the office etc. This was all done as part of the celebration of Public School Week.

Today is the day for the "bridging event" for the Brownies at Capri and San Tomas Schools. Junior Scout Troop 420 of Capri School, are using a circus theme for the Brownie party. All decorations and refreshments are geared to this theme and include balloons and popcorn, clowns and a ring master for the center ring.

Sharing the center ring are Brownies from Troops 214, 483 and 1034 and the Juniors as they introduce themselves and teach games and songs to their sister scouts. Leaders of Troop 420 are Mrs. David McCalment and Mrs. Keith Kaldemback.

MOVING

Each year since 1948, about one-fifth of the population changed residence within the United States.

AWARD WINNER--Jim Cassidy, (left) of 1091 Monica Lane, Campbell, recently received the distinguished "Golden Salesman's award from "Rusty" Davis, president of the Sales and Marketing Executives Association of San Francisco.

Cassidy, employed by Federal Sign and Signal Corporation, received the top award for his steady sales growth and development of new accounts. Cassidy is a member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club and represents area #3 on the executive board of the Citizens Advisory Committee now studying this city's projected capital improvement program.

OUT FOR A "LARK"

CAMPBELL PLAZA MERCHANTS HOST NATIONAL T.V. CREW

The Lark Camera Truck is coming to the Campbell area Monday, May 8, 1967, between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m., and will stay at the Campbell Plaza, at Budd and Winchester Blvd., for as long as the reception, and availability of Lark package holders, "holds out"!

Don't Go Out Without Your Larks...especially if you intend to be on hand for the "auditions" that day. The casting of "people" for the national commercials (seen on TV almost hourly) done for the Lark Cigarette time-spots, actually use "individuals" from the crowds viewing the proceedings.

The photogenic folks, or the "ham actors" among the on-lookers will all have a chance to be singled out, and a "release" may be signed by the "selectee" for use in planning the future commercials. If you are selected, among the "rushes" which the agency views, you will then be contacted to sign a further release for use on the TV (and possibly a contract?).

The Camera Crew will stay at the Plaza for as long as the crowd warrants their use of the film "footage", and it is hoped that a sizeable number of Campbellites will be on hand to see that Campbell is WELL REPRESENTED in any films shown nationally on TV!

The merchants pictured below on this page, have sponsored this announcement, in order that the Lark Truck may have a spacious area in which to move around, and also to hold the crowd which is hoped this event will draw.

Remember to have a Lark Package with you when the man holds up the sign saying, "Show us your LARK PACK". Just in case you don' come prepared, the stores handling cigarettes at the Campbell Plaza will be certain to see that you can get them there.
